CLUB NOTES

By Mrs. Mary H. Gridley.

Jean Paul Richter said: "The wish falls often warm upon my heart that I may learn nothing here that I can not continue in another world—that I may do nothing here but deeds that will bear fruit in heaven."

Supt. Francis, of the Los Angeles schools, speaks in highest terms of the Parent-Teacher Association, saying: "It is the greatest wonder of our present day system in that it is constantly asking, what can the home do to help the school? This is a wonderful era in which we live, the birthright of each individuality is being respectfully considered by parents and teachers in the higher light of Divine Intelligence, but if one's horizon is covered by selfish propensities it will exclude the light. It is a time for tearing away narrow partitions and coming into the open field of progress, filled with earnest desire to aid in everything which makes for the future good citizenship of our boys and girls and sifting out the bigotry and limitations taught by unprogressive adults."

THE RECIPROCITY CLUB.

It may not be generally known that there is a club of this kind which holds regular meetings in Christopher's banquet hall on the first Tuesday of each month. Mrs. Catharine Pierce Wheat is the president. At the last meeting Mrs. W. H. Housh presided, in the absence of the president. The members who were present were greatly benefited by listening to an instructive and very able lecture by Mrs. William Ritter, ex-president of the Southern District of Federated Women's Clubs. Doctor Ritter urged "Sincerity in regard to Child Training," and implored parents to tell their children the truth under all circumstances, to win their life-long confidence by sincerity. Other speakers were Mrs. A. B. Hamilton, state president California Congress of Mothers, Mrs. Russell Waters, president California State Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Mary H. Gridley, president Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club. About seventy-five members were present and new members are cordially invited.

WEST GLENDALE PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

On Thursday afternoon, Dec. 8, the president, Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, called the meeting to order in Mrs. Taylor's room at 3:30 p. m. A fine musical program was given as follows: Two songs by pupils from Miss Erickson's room, led by their teacher; the "Step Song" was a graceful, well executed piece and gave great pleasure to the audience. The four young lads who compose the West Glendale Orchestra, played some choice selections which were enthusiastically received. A piano duet by Ellen Moncton and Miss Erickson was highly appreciated. A vocal solo by Helen MacMullen with Mrs. Gibson at the piano, delighted the children. Mrs. Gridley gave two papers, which called forth a vote of thanks from the kindly appreciative mothers and teachers. Every mother who can possibly leave home should make an effort to be present at the association; it is the best kind of a reciprocity meeting between parents and teachers. When those who are interested in the welfare of the children come together and work for harmony, they will find it the best kind of fertilizer to insure a crop of satisfactory results, in the schools and in the homes.

COUNTRY CLUB.

The Glendale Country Club gave a delightful card party on Saturday eve, Dec. 10. Mrs. Pulliam was the charming hostess and "everything went merry as a marriage bell." Mrs. Claude Pulliam, who is always a success as an entertainer, was the acceptable host and made all of the guests and members feel that there was nothing lacking for a jolly good time. Games of "500" and bridge whist played by the guests assembled and shouts of laughter frequently attested the pleasure derived from these pleasant games and witty conversation among the people. Mrs. H. E. Bartlett won the first ladies' prize for "500" and Mrs. Gridley won first prize in bridge whist. Excellent refreshments were daintily served and "everybody and his friends" went home before midnight saying, "Didn't we have a fine time?" Of course they did; they always do at the Country Club.

TROPICO PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

The Tropico Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Leppleman president, gave a most enjoyable entertainment Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 3d, at 3 p. m., at the Tropico school building. The program was furnished by the scholars. It consisted of well chosen recitations and fine music. The children gave proof of the excellent training and drilling by the teachers and were a credit to their able instructors. Mrs. Anna Augspurger added greatly to the pleasure of the audience by giving them a very fine selection from Beethoven. The same afternoon this association gave a Thanksgiving offering for the Children's Hospital in Los Angeles. They sent seven boxes of canned fruits, jellies and groceries, besides toys to the sick little ones. The next meeting of this association will be held in the Tropico school building on Friday, Jan. 6th, at 3 p. m.

TROPICO THURSDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

This club will meet with Mrs. W. H. Halleck Thursday, Dec. 15th. Mrs. John Farrar and Mrs. E. J. Parratt will assist in entertaining. Miss Leta Hor-locher, of Los Angeles, an instructor at Cumminock and the Girls' Collegiate, will speak to the club on the "Artists of Los Angeles and Their Work."

SIXTH ST. PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

The regular monthly meeting of the association was held last Friday. A large amount of business was transacted. A committee was appointed to purchase additional facilities for serving the refreshments at the meetings. Mrs. G. D. Roach and Mrs. F. C. Thorpe were appointed to act on this committee. The next meeting of Jan. 6th will have a question box program, directed by Mrs. Frank Hester. Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, chairman of the picture committee presented the handsome picture purchased by the association and which is to be given to the room having the largest number of mothers present, each month. Miss Helen Lamson's room secured that honor this month.

Miss Margaret Marshall of Los Angeles rendered several charming piano solos.

Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, state chairman of the Mothers' Congress, for the Children's Hospital, gave an interesting address on the work planned and the benefits derived from this splendid work; many touching incidents connected with the little patients were related and the mother hearts present were stirred with sympathetic interest. At the close of the address the members decided to give the hospital a fruit shower on Tuesday, Dec. 13th, the fruit to be brought to the school, where arrangements for transportation to the hospital have been made. A number of new members were added to the roll. Delicious refreshments were served under the direction of Mrs. Wilmot Parcher, Miss Waite and Miss Lamson, assisted by the Misses Evangeline Hunchberger, Joyce Dominy and Juanita Emery.

BENEFIT DANCE.

The dance given, last Friday evening, by a group of prominent Tropico club women, for the benefit of the library building fund, was both a social and financial success, over sixty couples being in attendance. Smedley's orchestra furnished the music. The beautiful decorations were in keeping with the season, being holly, red and green. Ladies have been informed that the entertainment at an early date. A large number of guests from Glendale were present.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.

Glen Eyrie, Chapter O. E. S. will hold the regular installation of officers on Thursday, Dec. 15, at 8 p. m., to which the members, their families, Masons and visiting Star members are invited.

A WORD OF PRAISE.

Jewel City Press, Glendale, Cal. Gentlemen—I have a copy of your new paper before me and desire to compliment you on this first issue. It is filled with local, up-to-date news that should interest every resident of Glendale. If you keep up the pace you have set your paper will get close to the people and you should have their hearty support. Its policy makes each and every one a stockholder—you get the money and they get the news. The price of subscription is within the reach of all, for, certainly, 25¢ per copy for all local news is cheap.

I am pleased to note you have for one of your writers Mrs. Mary H. Gridley, a woman of large worldly experience, who will no doubt contribute entertaining reading for the subscribers.

Count me a subscriber from your first issue and hold me up for the dollar at the first time you meet me. You have my best wishes for your success with the new enterprise.

Yours very truly,
CHARLES E. STANLEY.

SAN FERNANDO WATER QUESTION.

The city attorney of Los Angeles has advised the water commission that it has the right to stop the pumping of water from wells located in the San Fernando valley.

New agricultural tracts in the valley are rapidly being opened and one company in particular is engaged in exploiting the region.

The consumption of water has rapidly increased and all the water pumped from the private wells is subtracted from the flow of Los Angeles river, which supplies the city. The state supreme court in a celebrated water case held that the city owns all the water on the watershed and in the underground gravel basin which the San Fernando valley wells draw from.

SMALL FIRE.

A fire occurred about 6:30 a. m. Friday at the home of Mrs. Watanen, 1463 West Third street.

Mrs. Watanen was heating a pan of water on the top of an oil stove, and as she took the pan off the stove she accidentally knocked the stove over, the oil spreading on the floor and setting fire to the woodwork. She and her daughter put rugs and a mattress on the flames, but the cotton in the mattress fell out and became a flaming mass. She finally got the mattress through the window and the fire was put out. The damage was small, not exceeding $75, which loss was quickly adjusted by the insurance companies.

Call and give us a trial; we know you will call again. Central Stables.

M. S. Romich has sold his house on Pacific avenue and Hawthorne street to Mr. and Mrs. S. Stark, who moved in this week.

THE TRUSTEES HOLD USUAL MEETING

The City Trustees held their usual meeting last night and all were present but Lane. Report of the Health Officer Dr. Chase, recommending that sanitary provisions of Fire District No. 2 be extended to Fire District No. 3. It was referred to Police and Sanitary Committee in conjunction with the City Attorney.

An application from W. W. McElroy for a permit to do street work by private contract on a portion of Adams street was granted.

The resolution for street on Seventh street was voted on and carried; all those present voting aye.

The matter of purchasing and installing six rubbish incinerators was referred to the Police and Sanitary Committee, with full power to act.

$1,222.44 of the Electric Light fund to be transferred to Electric Light bond and to be used for semi-annual payment of interest.

These rubbish incinerators, that the city will purchase, are to be used for the burning of rubbish. They are to be in convenient places in convenient parts of the town and the right to burn rubbish in them is from 6 a. m. until 9 a. m. The committee was given full power to act and to get them at once as cheaply as possible. This will do away with so many rubbish fires to be seen every morning and also the risk these fires cause.

The young man plans on sending for his mother and sisters to join him here, at an early date.

Annexationists Hold a Lively Meeting

The campaign meeting held a lively meeting last Thursday night in L. O. O. F. hall. A large crowd was there and the first part of the evening passed very pleasantly with speeches by Mr. Fram, who showed the great benefit Glendale would get by having a Free Holder's Charter.

Mr. Sherer was the next speaker and he first remarked about the great number of persons present who were not with them, and brought out the good thought of harmony.

Judge Herald followed with a speech assuring us of a population of 75,000 in 10 years. He said that we had time to get a Free Holder's Charter through the next legislature.

Rev. Dr. Henry was the next speaker, and one thing he asked was what the Tropico people would do if Glendale was to dam up the Verdugo wash. He also said we would have to wait a long time before annexation with Los Angeles could be brought about.

Everything went lovely until the last of the meeting. The speakers of the evening had all been heard and the chairman announced that five minutes would be allowed to any who might want the floor as it was getting late and the people wanted to go home. Then came a scene of disorder and many went away much dissatisfied with the way it ended.

K. of P. Elect Officers

Office of Justice

Makes Novel Plea in Action to Have Supervisors Certify Election.

J. Whomes, who was the democratic candidate for the office of justice of the peace of Burbank township and received 404 votes, while his republican opponent, George C. Melrose, received 996, claims he was elected and makes a novel contention in an application for a writ of mandate filed in the superior court Monday, asking that the board of supervisors be ordered to certify to his election.

At present there is only one justice in that township, but the plaintiff sets up in his petition that the township has a population of more than 5000, that there is no city of a size sufficient to have a recorder, and therefore the township is entitled to two justices of the peace. As he received the second highest number of votes, he claims he was elected, as well as his republican opponent.

The usual procedure when a township becomes large enough to demand two justices is for the supervisors to

A Good Attendance.

The Glendale Band Benefit Concert which was held in the Glendale Theater last Wednesday night, was well patronized. A good program had been prepared and was carried out. The entertainment lasted until after 11:00 o'clock and every one went away knowing they had got their "two-bits" worth.

Mr. C. D. Furst, manager of the band, rendered a baritone solo (Blue Bells of Scotland) which was very well received.

Miss Helen McMullen sang "Down Where the Big Bananas Grow," and Gertrude Thorp sang "Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland," both of which were fine. Prof. N. F. Nevans, the popular pianist, gave a piano solo. Maude D'Alma sang for an illustrated song, and also gave a singing specialty.

CHRISTMAS SUGGESTORS.

Less than two weeks until Xmas and the merchants of Glendale are alive to their opportunities. Mr. Chobe, the electrician, has his windows fixed up very prettily. He has it fixed up with a Christmas tree, open fireplace and even the stockings waiting for Santa to come.

"Johnnie" Marvel, the genial proprietor of the Jewel City Stationery Store, has put in a lot of time fixing up his windows and store and shows his ability in that line.

The Jewel City Furniture Co. has a large window space and Mr. Offutt, the proprietor, has put in plenty of hard work to make a handsome display. It shows it.

Mr. J. E. Williams, the dry goods man, has also fixed his window up and shows much good taste in so doing.

Many other merchants have put in lots of time and money fixing up for Xmas and so let's patronize home people this year. They'll appreciate it.

Casa Verdugo Row Winds Up in Court

Sowls File Suit Against P. E. for $10,000 Damages and Ask Injunction

The difficulties between the Pacific Electric Railway company and Mrs. Piedad Yorba Sowl, over the restaurant business at the end of the railway company's Glendale line and the use of the name "Casa Verdugo," resulted Monday in a suit for $10,000 damages being filed in the superior court against the Pacific Electric.

Mrs. Sowl has conducted the cafe for the past five years, but a few months ago engaged in a dispute with the managers of the railway company respecting the manner in which the place was being run, with the result that she was ordered to vacate the premises, which were leased by the railway company.

Mrs. Sowl and her husband, Charles Sowl, at once filed articles of incorporation of a company to be known as "Casa Verdugo," and other articles for a concern with the name "Casa Verdugo, inc." These same day evidently with the object of retaining a monopoly on the name. The restaurant then removed to property a short distance east of the old stand and on Nov. 24 the Pacific Electric started a cafe in the old place under the management of J. R. Brabo, formerly of Santa Barbara, still keeping the name "Casa Verdugo," it is alleged.

In the complaint filed Monday, it is recited that the defendant maintained a sign at the end of the car line stating that the "Casa Verdugo" restaurant was closed for repairs. Advertisements also were inserted in the daily papers informing the public that the cafe was closed, it is alleged, the plaintiff claiming that all this time the real "Casa Verdugo" was open.

It is set forth that the Pacific Electric is not authorized by its articles of incorporation, its charter, or the laws of California to engage in any restaurant or cafe business and the plaintiff asks, besides $10,000 damages, that a permanent injunction be issued restraining the railway company from using a sign with the words "Casa Verdugo," or conducting a restaurant under any name containing those words.

Miss Peterson, Mr. Ganahl, Mr. H. B. Lynch.

CREAMERY VISITORS VISIT CASA VERDUGO.

A special train of three cars carrying the California Creamery Operators' Association, came from town last Saturday bound for Casa Verdugo and for one of their noted luncheons. There were six long tables very prettily decorated with poppies and about 200 persons enjoyed the luncheon; Senora Francesco Brabo is the chef at Casa Verdugo and many complimentary remarks are heard about her work.

A Los Angeles man, S. A. W. Carver, president of the Crescent Creamery company, Los Angeles, has been elected president of the California Creamery Operators' Association for ensuing year.

HOUSE WARMING FOR FATHER O'NEILL.

Next Thursday afternoon and evening December 15th, the parishioners of Glendale will take formal possession of the parochial residence on Lomita avenue, adjoining the Church of the Holy Family, and give their beloved pastor, Rev. Jas. S. O'Neill, an old-fashioned "house warming." It is the object of this "house warming" to supply the house with the indispensables necessary for all the comforts of a home. A general invitation to all is extended.

GO CARTS.

DEATH CALLS.

Mrs. Land, mother of C. M. Land, of Third and Isabelle streets, died at the home of her son Sunday morning. The funeral was held Monday from the Pulliam Undertaking parlors on Fourth street, Rev. Norton officiating.

Miss Grace Steinburg, age 26, of Utica, N. Y., who has been stopping at the home of Wm. Lunker on Viola street since last April, died at her home last Friday night of tuberculosis.

Why wait? Why go to Los Angeles? Special prices and work guaranteed at Rowland Studio, 304½ Brand Blvd.

MUSICAL.

There will be a musical given at the Fourth Street School Thursday and at the Sixth street Friday under the direction of Mrs. Anderson. A fine program is promised and all are welcome. Mrs. Anderson is director of music in the schools.

A CORRECTION.

In last week's issue we reported that Judge Whomes fined a man $250 for 6 months for drunkenness. The charge was far more serious than that and he could have imposed a fine of $500 or 6 months or both, according to the Penal Code. We are always glad to make corrections when necessary.

A QUIET TIP.

Come in and select your wife or sister a nice Mission rocker for Christmas at the Jewel City Furniture Co., 1104 West Fourth street.

BAPTIST WOMEN'S AID SOCIETY.

On Thursday at 2:30 p. m. the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Aid Society will be held in the church. As unusual business is to be transacted it is hoped a large attendance will be present. All the women of the church and congregation are invited.

BAZAAR.

The Bazaar given by the Episcopal Church at Guild hall, Thursday and Friday was well attended and a good time enjoyed by all. The entertainment was complete and the different booths were well patronized. It was a success in every way.

December 13, 1910

For six eventful years, Glendale has been climbing the ladder of success. Since her first inception as a city, population and improvements have advanced hand in hand. Today she stands upon the threshold of a greater achievement, that of increasing her territory.

And in the Greater Glendale, what possibilities will be presented; what vistas of progress opened!

Beautiful as nature is about us, and bountiful as she has been, yet we must aid in increasing the myriad colors and the plenitude of landscape decoration.

In all our pleasures and recreations, none are so restful or beneficial as those directly in contact with nature's own green hills and amongst her flowers and trees.

In city life these things are few. The value of property, the hurry and crush of business, all tend to a forgetfulness and prevention.

What are so inviting as cool green lawns, shady nooks, brilliant masses of varicolored blossoms?

What greater good could Glendale do than set aside certain pieces of land within her boundaries for the consummation of this condition?

Parks are a necessity of every-day life. They are beautifiers of a city. They show the visitors who come, that the people of the community take thought for their ideals and crystallize the unreal into the real. They act as a banner, proclaiming the virtue and love of good of the community possessing them.

Let us have Parks in Glendale. Two or three or four, located in such position that the whole city will derive a benefit from them. They will prove a lasting blessing and a permanent beautifier of our Jewel City of the San Fernando Valley.

How did Volume 1, Number 1, suit YOU?

We believe you liked it. Every one who read it that we saw or heard, congratulated us, both on the looks of it, and what was in it. The advertisers, too, said it was O. K., and not only said that, but told us to keep their "ad" going. That doesn't sound like flattery, does it?

One of the wealthiest, also busiest men in town, gave his dollar to us and told us to send it to his business office as soon as printed for a year.

Lots of others, too, but we want your subscription NOW, and in return we'll try to make each succeeding issue better.

It might be we missed your house accidentally last week; if so, we ask your pardon. Naturally, starting in, things didn't go just exactly as we wished; some of the homes were missed, and some families got more than one. We'll do better each week. The best way not to miss The Press is to subscribe for it; then there will be no such trouble.

Our goal at present is a thousand subscribers, and who can't afford two cents a week to get all the local news?

Send your subscription in now, by telephone or mail. Phones: Home 632, Sunset 1903.

HELP THINGS ALONG.

Didn't an encouraging smile mean a whole lot to you, Mr. Boss, when you were working for some one else? Just so, yours will mean much to those working for you. Help them along.

Some men seem to think that to be business-like they must be gruff and crabbed. Just try the smile tactics—and see things come as they never did before.

Smile—yes, smile—if business isn't good, smile anyhow. The frown won't help a bit. It only makes things worse.

We have started our subscription list, and it will remain open for any one wishing to subscribe for The Press. Just mail us a check or leave a dollar at the office and you will receive it for a year. This is a live, up-to-date paper in every way, and it will continue to be such. We certainly have made a good start. Subscriptions are coming in fast, so don't wait; do it now while you think of it.

By the way, the meeting went the other night, we expect to see something doing on the 3rd of January. We will all turn out and see what is doing.

P. E. Flyer Stops at Park Avenue

It is not often that a flyer of the Pacific Electric stops any place but where it is supposed to, but last Wednesday night it broke all rules and regulations and did so. In the front end of the car was a "Jap" and he wanted to get off at Park avenue and told the motorman so, but the motorman wouldn't see it that way. He tried to get off but was held on by a couple of men, but as they thought he had given up the idea let him alone, and he made a break and jumped. It so happened he landed in the sand or this story might have been different. Anyway, as one party put it, he landed on his nose and scratched it pretty bad and turned about 40 somersaults. The car then stopped and the conductor went back to find out about it. The "Jap" said: "She say she no stop, me want to get off." So, if you want to get off at Park avenue don't take a flyer.

BILL BOARDS AGAIN.

We think it is about time that that beautiful framework on the corner of Brand boulevard and Third street was down. We all acknowledge it is certainly a beautiful piece of work, but we think it would look better in somebody's backyard than adorning one of our main streets. It has been up there for about a month and we would like to see something done about it.

NOTICE OF SHAREHOLDERS' MEETING.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE PEOPLE

Communications on live subjects of the day are welcomed by the "Press." Any unsigned articles will not receive publication. The "Press" is not responsible in any way for such communications.

West Glendale, Cal., Dec. 9, 1910.
To the Editor of the Jewel City Press:

I do not agree with the gentlemen who were the authors of an article in your last week's issue relative to the proposed consolidation of territory and civic interests in this valley, which at the most are only separated by imaginary lines on the maps and imaginary differences of interests in the minds of some.

I also take decided issue with the article in question in the exposition of the political economy side of the question, in as far as such views as expressed may have any foundation in fact; while as to other statements therein which have no apparent basis of fact to rest upon I will speak in detail later.

The water question is a question which can and will take care of itself as has been evidenced by the growth of the territory from a sheep ranch to its present status. The issues which arise from the necessity of the time are met and overcome one by one as required.

The water rate, the article says, in Los Angeles is from 75c to $1. This is presumably quoted as an argument against consolidation. To my mind it is an argument for consolidation with our neighbors of Glendale that we may work in harmony for a municipal water system of our own such as Los Angeles has and thus be able to reduce the charge, or if not reduce the charge put the surplus of profits in our own municipal pockets that we may lessen our taxes or benefit ourselves and our children by improvements which are recognized by the enlightened men of the day as being not only desirable but indispensable.

As to the electric light proposition, a comparison between Los Angeles and Glendale is certainly not to the disadvantage of Glendale when the facts are taken into consideration, and as to the comparison between Glendale and the "outside"—the "outside" has all the worst of it as a few figures will show. The "outside" charges are, meter $15, minimum rate on 10 kilowatt hours per month $1.50, and 15c per kilowatt hour in excess. In Glendale the meter is furnished free, minimum rate $1.00 per month and 10c per kilowatt hour in excess. I give a practical example for comparison. The average family will use in the six months from Oct. 1st to March 1st inclusive, 20 kilowatts per month. Outside of Glendale this will cost the consumer $18. In Glendale the cost would be $12, a difference in the latter's favor of $6.00. The balance of the year we will presume that the consumer uses only the minimum, which would give the cost as follows: Outside, $9.00; inside, $6, a difference of $3.00; total difference per year in favor of Glendale for light alone, $9.00.

Then bear in mind that this is a municipal plant and subject to our control to the end that the rate can be reduced as the primary expenses of its installation are removed from the profits now shown at the present rate. If a Los Angeles corporation can produce "juice" for a kilowatt and make a profit, then Glendale can also, and put the profit where it belongs—to the credit of the people. The article admits a profit of $1494 on the Glendale plant—a snug sum for an infantile project. It will grow!

A comparison of gas cost between Los Angeles and Glendale is not a fair one, at this time. In the larger city the corporation has had many years in which to get back the primary cost of the plant, and have thus been compelled, through fear of adverse legislation, to lower their rate to a more reasonable figure. Our gas utility is in its swaddling clothes as yet, with a big bill of expense for coming into our community to be paid. As the number of consumers increase and the primary expense is reduced it is reasonable to suppose a reduction of charges will take place. The majority of our citizens in the valley recognize these salient points, and this, combined with the added safety to our property and selves as against gasoline as a fuel, removes the gas question from any consideration whatever.

Now as to the "five-cent" car fare fable, let us unmask it and see what it is. Does any right-minded man believe that it is possible at the present time to operate the electric line between here and Los Angeles for 5c and make more than bare expenses? All but a practical thing at this time. Although the traffic is large, still it is not large enough as yet, and the only way we can attain such a concession is to make our community a desirable place, with modern improvements, that will attract a superior citizenship, to the end that property values will increase so rapidly and climb so high that when we do get a 5c fare we will not be burdened with an undesirable element that may filter through our city gates along with the desirable ones.

The gentlemen state that Glendale is bonded to her limit. Is this a fact or not? Let the reader judge. The assessed valuation is $1,500,000; 15 per cent, the amount allowed by law that a city may bond itself, is $225,000. The bonded indebtedness of Glendale is, in round numbers, $54,000, with $4000 of light bonds yet to be issued. This statement of Glendale being bonded to her limit is then born of ignorance of the matter or misunderstanding of an important item in our political economy.

The statement about the right to live outside of a municipality if one so desires, and of one having the right to do as he pleases, are both true, in so far as they do not conflict with the rights of the majority. All just government is based upon the principle of the greatest good of the greatest number, and when a majority of the citizens in any community believe certain measures are for the best interests of the greatest number it then shows good citizenship to "grin and bear it," and put their shoulder to the wheel and push, rather than obstruct.

The article speaks of the good homes which are going up on every hand as a possible, though weak, argument against consolidation. People who are coming to our valley now are not like we who came years ago, in the respect that in a great many of the cases they are city born and bred, and while desiring to enjoy the beautiful surroundings that an all seeing Providence was kind enough to provide for the race of man, yet their former mode of city life has made modern institutions almost a necessity to them, and who will say that there is any better way to secure them than through a municipality such as is proposed for this valley.

Now for a few words as to the proposed form of government of the greater municipality. The state laws allow several forms of government, but the experience of men who have gone into such matters shows that a government based upon a Freeholder's Charter, which includes the initiative, the referendum and the recall, comes nearer placing the government of the people where it belongs—in the hands of the people—than any other system yet devised by man and born of experience.

To speak pertaining to a possible annexation to Los Angeles. We of the "outside" would stand but little show when merged with the Los Angeles city government in as much as we would be seven or eight miles from the seat of government and would have small chance of getting anything in the line of public necessities except what they saw fit to give us. We would be the flea in the hair on the tail of the dog.

On the other hand, standing consolidated throughout the valley we could make terms of surrender to Los Angeles if necessary that would be with honor and just profit to ourselves. We would be able to become a part of Greater Los Angeles, if such was the desire of the majority, under the borough system, which provides many safeguards for our rights, viz., expenditures of tax money raised in our district, local option, and in fact all home matters would be under our own control.

As to road districts and, in short, all district schemes now shown as arguments why we should not consolidate, they can be dismissed with a few words. At this time such schemes are in the experimental stage, while the municipal system of street improvements is not an experiment but a cold fact of accomplishment, as witness the streets of Glendale, and then shed a tear over the miserable excuses for the thoroughfares which exist in many districts in the confines of Tropic, West Glendale and Casa Verdugo—the home of the automobile owners who have to come down to Glendale to find a roadbed that a self respecting automobile will speak to.

The writers have not advanced one valid, logical reason why we should stay out, and close their article by saying that the election was not called by any considerable number of people outside. Now that is a matter to be decided after the votes are counted on January 3rd, 1911—a day which I believe will mark an epoch in the history of this Eden of modern man, the coming of progress and greater things for a community in which all good citizens should and can take a just pride, and have a heritage of a "city beautiful"—the Jewel City of the World.

WILLIAM J. LACEY.
515 Central Ave., West Glendale.

Glendale, Cal., Dec. 12, 1910.
To the Editor of the "Press."

The presumption is that when a move is made or an undertaking set on foot, where a community is involved and its best interests at stake, the people generally are or should be consulted and a general outline of the plans and undertakings should be outlined and developed at public meetings where all so interested could be heard and where they could present their individual ideas as to the best mode of procedure in such undertakings. At present we have a case of that sort before us. The Valley Improvement Association, so-called, has through its deliberations, to create what it is pleased to call Greater Glendale.

This undertaking, it proposes to accomplish by the annexation to the present City of Glendale, certain outlying and contiguous districts, among which is West Glendale, and this as I understand the matter, without consulting the wishes of the residents of that district, and further if I am rightly informed, those residents of that district who did find their way into the meetings of the organization above named, when attempting to present their wishes in the matter were given short shift by the "Push" so-called, and amid a Babel of voices were only too glad to take their seats.

Should their efforts be crowned with success by their winning the battle of ballots on the third day of January next, what would be the result? Simply this. All that portion of West Glendale lying north of Fourth st. and what would be Pacific avenue, continued from its present terminus, Fourth street, north would remain in its present undeveloped condition. Why do I say in its undeveloped condition? Simply because I am acquainted with the owners of the property in question, have discussed the feasibility and desirability of putting streets through from end to end that all might benefit thereby, but there was no way to accomplish this. One owner was willing that a certain street should go through his property, but under no circumstances would he allow another street to pass, while others were willing another street should be continued over their property, but the street first mentioned could not pass; no, not that street.

Such are the conditions today, such are usually the conditions in locations representing acreage property. Ours is no exception. Now then, what will be the result in case that the election should carry. Why simply this. What under those conditions would have been the northwest corner of the new city would remain just what it is today, and that section of West Glendale, the most beautiful part of all Glendale, lying west of Central avenue, north of Fourth, south of Sycamore avenue, and east of the location in question would be blocked, held up, and with no prospects whatever in the near future of getting their numbers of streets continued through to San Fernando road, as they would justly deserve to have done for them.

People when their own interests are considered by those who would undertake to accomplish certain ends usually fully appreciate such efforts, but when a people feel that their interests are not considered, that they are in a way being coerced, usually their sentiments are those of derision rather than of sympathy.

I would not have the people in the district in question think for one moment that it is my wish that they should be included within the boundaries of the proposed new city, far from it. The intent is to show the inconsistency of one or many attempting so great and so important an undertaking as the union of hundreds of people without their counsel, their consent, and against their wishes.

Think of such a city divided as it certainly would be upon all questions of importance. Harmony and good will could not and would not prevail at least not in the near future, as questions of importance would arise and have to be settled within the period of one or two years. A step in the dark is most unwise. Let us be satisfied to live as at present in a community, size being considered, that is undoubtedly growing faster than any other in this southern sun-kissed land.

The third day of next month (January) will tell the tale. "To be, or not to be, is the question." We sincerely hope not to be.

WARREN STORY.

To the Editor of the Press—Good citizenship considers "the things of others." Each citizen, who has in him the elements of goodness and rightness, will contemplate upon the needs and welfare of his neighbors and neither deal in contempt, conspiracy nor cunning to bring hardships upon others. He is a diligent student of the neighborly qualities which develop the moral and material sides of his being, thus doing his little part in building up the very best for the community. However, the baser instincts may cry out, "Do your neighbor" rather than "do as you so much desire that he should do to you—bring to you what will make you feel kindly disposed toward him—the deeper feelings for the good among mankind will come to you more and more unless you are a renegade and ingrate, first cousin to the idiot. I believe that the citizens of this valley have nobler impulses than to do each other injury. We have here a very high class of citizenship. There is a minimum of ugliness or disposition to lower the standard of real worth and good behavior. I am glad to be able to be a citizen of this beautiful and rich valley full of great possibilities.

I want to look at this sewerage question in the best light and for the best interests of every one. We all agree that an unsanitary region has in it the elements of death and decay, and in time it will be uninhabited. Good drainage is essential to healthy growth of a people. Moral and material bacteria and miasma are not needful to good citizenship. Hence to maintain excellent physical conditions there must be the best possible ways of disposing of sewage and garbage.

Men differ as to the best method. Dumping it into the Pacific Ocean seems to be a success, but this valley is cut off from that dumping water by the city of Los Angeles and by distance. Distance itself mounts far above our pocket books; hence if we abide as a separate municipality from Los Angeles, we must look to some other method of disposing of our sewage.

Septic tanks may be used and are a success where adopted. But such tanks must necessarily be placed on the lower parts of a municipality. And those who own homes in such places seriously object to having these near them. However, some places must accept the less desirable things for the good of the community or majority.

This being the case, such points ought to be fully compensated if any damage or injury to property may inure. You say, "This can be done when annexation has been accomplished." True it can; but in all fairness this can be more satisfactorily done before annexation by guarantee than it can after annexation or, as our friends call it, consolidation so as to smooth out the wrinkle that arise by the use of the word annexation, which is the thing sought. It is this want of approaching these things in the spirit of fairness that awakens the suspicions and property owners arise in what they consider "self defense." In forming lines, in considering sewage, in the matter of locating municipal buildings, which all the territory shall have to share, good government requires the farthest out-reach among the people to gain confidence and foster public spirit and public improvement. Each community requested to join Glendale should have been asked to choose a committee of ten or fifteen to confer with the trustees of Glendale and this body then consider the best interests of all parties and sections and report to the people. In such broad spirit ceremonies, held by rich corporations, will not be placed outside the city limits.

Glen Wood, a Junior of U. S. C., entertained one of the fraternities to which he belongs at his home on Orange Grove avenue, Friday night, about twenty young people being present. A very pleasant evening was spent playing games, etc., after which refreshments were served by Mrs. W. F. Wood. The party then adjourned just in time to get the last car to the city.

J. M. Banker, H. M. Overton, Mrs. E. H. Stannard, Mrs. J. H. Bright, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Taylor, Miss Florence Taylor and Master Vernon Taylor and Rev. Eugene Haines, all of the First Baptist church, went on their second weekly visit to some member of the church or congregation. The lucky family this time was the Stauch family of Eagle Rock. They spent a very pleasant evening there and returned to Glendale after a couple of hours.

Can you save two (2) cents a week? If you can you can buy the best local paper that you ever read, and learn all about what is doing in the town that you live in. You can get this paper delivered to your home for $1.00 per year (2 cents per week), payable in advance, or 5 cents per copy at any news stand in the city. Send in your check at once.

A party of young people met at the home of Rev. Eugene Haines, Milford street, and organized a missionary society. After a reading on immigration by Mrs. Haines they adjourned for games and a good time. Refreshments were served by the hostess. The next meeting will be at the home of Newton Van Why on vine street. The following officers were elected: Myrtle Wood, president; Newton Van Why, vice-president; Cora Ward, secretary; Winnifred Saddler, assistant secretary; Harry W. Chase, treasurer; Mrs. Eugene Haines, superintendent.

Frank D. Booth of West Seventh street, returned Tuesday from Chicago, Ill., where he has been for the past winter or more, working with J. C. Beldin of this place, on what seems to be a very practical torch for telephone linemen and others using a torch in the open air. He reports that they have been very successful thus far, even better than they anticipated.

His partner, J. C. Beldin, is still in Chicago, showing the invention to numerous concerns there. Mr. Booth said that when he left "Chi" it was getting mighty cold, and was glad to have a landing place in Glendale, for though he has been in nearly every state in the Union, Glendale, to his notion, is the finest home place in the United States.
